The Gospel According to Pelagius

On this edition, the hosts discussed the views of popular theologian N. T. Wright, focusing in particular on his influence on contemporary Christian thought and practice. This program features special guests R. Scott Clark, and was recorded before a live audience.

The Glory Story

Many argue that Christians always have a Christian mission. In this edition, the White Horse Inn explores the influence of Oceanside, CA. on the overall health of evangelical Christianity. The hosts take a look at the philosophy of pragmatism and its effects on contemporary Christian thought and practice.

The Courage to be Protestant

On this program, the hosts discuss the influence of both Reformation and American Pelagianism. The White Horse Inn explores the substance of true faith and practice, specifically taking a look at the theology of glory and its impact on the pursuit of Christ-cen

The Gospel According to Barnes & Noble - Part 2

On this edition, the hosts continue to interact with recent study findings made by Willow Creek Community Church, which outlines the problems of contemporary American Christianity. The hosts take another close look at this topic and interact with interviews from respected journalists and theologians.

Who Needs Church?
The Truth of the Cross

What is the most important thing people need to hear about and believe in the Christian faith? On this program, the hosts discuss the importance of Christ-centered preaching and the need for a worship service that truly reveals the glory of God. The hosts trace the thread of redemption through the centuries. What is the one thing Christ-cen

Chasing Church

American Deism

An American evangelical group on a quest to do church that’s different. The hosts take a look at the American Deism, particularly in the context of contemporary America. The hosts explore the subject of Deism, particularly in the context of contemporary American Christianity. The hosts discuss the philosophy of pragmatism and its effects on contemporary Christian thought and practice. What is the most important thing people need to hear about and believe in the Christian faith? On this program, the hosts discuss the importance of Christ-centered preaching and the need for a worship service that truly reveals the glory of God. The hosts trace the thread of redemption through the centuries. What is the one thing Christ-cen